

27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

What does it mean to be, as today’s Gospel mentions, “a people that produces the fruits of the kingdom”? It demands two things. Just as trees are fed from their roots, we must be rooted in Jesus; and, just as they grow toward the sky, we must have heaven in mind.

The tenants in the parable are the Pharisees, who persecuted God’s prophets and killed his son. They had God, in the person of Jesus, living among them, teaching them, eating with them performing miracles before their eyes. Yet they were so sure that they knew who God was that they did not recognize him. Their faith had become about their status and their laws, not about God. We must remember that our faith is not only a series of truths or practices. It is a relationship with Jesus. We must have open eyes, ears and hearts to recognize his presence in our midst. We must talk to, listen to and spend time with him in prayer, Mass and adoration.

We must also remember that God has a much greater gift in mind for us than anything on earth. The tenants were so set on short-term gain that they lost their eternal reward. Let us not forget or fail to recognize God’s gifts.
