

Reflection

The words proclaimed today in the Gospel are extremely important to our faith and tradition as Catholics. After he feeds the crowd and walks on water, Jesus tells his disciples that unless they eat his flesh and drink his blood, they will not have life.

In the face of this seemingly gruesome teaching, many disciples decide to walk away. When the twelve are given the opportunity to leave, Peter's response is one of faith. Instead of backing away from the difficult teaching given by Jesus, he responds with absolute trust, remembering that the one who speaks these words is the Holy One of God.

Sometimes we do not understand what God is telling us, or why we are going through a difficult situation. Sometimes the truth is inconvenient or too difficult to digest and we are tempted to walk away from God.

We are invited today to have a faith like Peter's – to trust in God, no matter how mysterious his ways. In fact, the communication we are about to share is an act of faith: we believe in the true presence of Jesus in the bread and wine. As we go back into the world after taking part in the Eucharist today, let us remember that we are carrying the life of God within us. May his life shine brightly through us!
